But not expressed 'in fancy;' rich not gaudy;
For this apparel oft proclaims the man."

The Hats we are showing for Christmas are rich, and express no extreme fancy. They are such as will be selected by those who want hats of quiet style and assured quality that will be suitable and correct for most occasions. The price of these hats show a reasonable profit, and it is this REASONABLE PROFIT principle that has made the enviable reputation of

DETECTIVE'S GUN TAKEN IN FIGHT

Kauimakaole and Awa
Have Mix-up With
Officer Collins

E. Collins, the latest addition to the detective department, had an exciting experience last night, in which he appeared as the defender of the fair, but was attacked and had his revolver taken away from him.

Collins and Officer Minvielle were on Emma street when they heard a woman crying inside a house. According to the Sheriff, Collins entered and found the woman together with Wilson Awa and J. Kauimakaole. The men had been drinking and there had been a quarrel, but the trouble was soon fixed up, the woman desiring that no arrest be made.

As the officers were leaving the place the two Hawaiians called out after them and one of them is alleged to have called Collins a foul name. Collins returned to them, struck one of them on the head, and there was a tussle, during which Collins drew his gun, which was, however, loaded only with blank cartridges. The two Hawaiians took the gun from him and beat him, but were arrested later on on charges of assault on an officer. One of them had a wound on his head and was taken to the hospital.

This morning all the parties were interviewed by the Sheriff, and as all agreed to have the matter dropped, it is probable that this will be done.

MINING MAGNATE IS PHILIPPINE BOUND

Among the passengers who stepped ashore from the Tenyo Maru at Hackfeld's wharf this morning, were A. Heise and wife, who are headed for the Philippine Islands by way of Hongkong.

Heise is one of the most extensive mining operators in the Philippine Islands, and is returning to the Orient to look over his properties after an extended stay on the mainland. He is accompanied by D. E. Blake, C. E., his mining engineer.

Heise has been very active in opening up the rich, mineral-bearing land of the Philippines, and has given the mining industry a tremendous boost in the islands. His holdings are extensive, and some of them are of great value. Mr. and Mrs. Heise will continue on their way Eastward when the Tenyo sails tomorrow morning.

SIBERIA WILL REACH HERE ON FESTAL DAY

H. Hackfeld & Company, local agents for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, received advices this morning to the effect that the liner Siberia sailed yesterday from Yokohama for this port. The Siberia brings 1900 tons of miscellaneous freight for Honolulu, almost a record cargo as far as the Oriental-Honolulu traffic is concerned.

On Christmas morning the Siberia will arrive here. That the passengers may not be forced to spend Christmas night on the bounding main, the company has made arrangements for the ship to lie over until the morning of the 25th, no matter how early she may reach this port.

The Siberia will take on mail and cargo for the mainland, and will have accommodations for seventy-five cabin passengers.

MORE BEACH LAND WILL NOT BE TAKEN

Waterfront Is Safe, Says
U.S. Government
Engineer

No more waterfront land will be condemned, for government military purposes, on Waikiki Beach. The rumors that have been current during the past few weeks, to the effect that the government contemplates taking the beach land as far east as Diamond Head, and several thousand yards west of the present western extremity of the reservation, is emphatically denied by Major Winslow, United States Army and lighthouse engineer here.

"I have heard it rumored about that we contemplate condemning more land," said Major Winslow this afternoon. "There is no truth in the story. We are not considering the condemning of any more waterfront land. Any report to the contrary is absolutely without warrant as far as this office is concerned."

As Major Winslow is the man in whose sole charge the matter of fortifications here rests, his assurance that no more waterfront land will be condemned, is final. He says that the McCandless place, the last beach land taken, furnishes all of the waterfront needed.

There are several valuable estates on Kalia Road, bordering on, or near, the present engineer encampment, whose owners have long refused to sell. The report that the government would soon condemn this land for military purposes, has created consternation in the minds of the owners, many of whom have erected handsome residences and spent much time and money beautifying their grounds.

Furthermore, the prospect of having the entire beach front withdrawn from the public has caused considerably worry among the lovers of aquatic sports. Instead of taking the matter straight to headquarters, those interested have held communion with themselves, only, and in consequence have suffered considerable unnecessary mental discomfort.

A rumor, generally current last week, told of plans of the government which were alleged to include the condemnation of all beach land up to and including the Castle estate. The rumor is branded by Major Winslow as a baseless canard.

J. O. A. WARD, DEAN OF AMERICAN
SCULPTORS, WHO IS ILL AT 78

[Because of his advanced age—he is 78—friends of John Quincy Adams Ward, dean of American sculptors, fear he will not survive his present critical illness. Mr. Ward was born in Urbana, O., and never saw a piece of sculpture until he was fifteen years of age, although at ten he fashioned clay models that excited the wonder of the village folk. His first work of any note was "The Indian Hunter," now in Central Park, New York. Other works of his in New York are the Washington in front of the Subtreasury building, the equestrian Washington in Union Square, Horace Greeley in front of the Tribune building, and many other notable statues. Last year Mr. Ward sued the Society of the Army of the Cumberland for $32,000 because six models made by him for a statue of General Sheridan were rejected.]
